Generali's Sosteneo acquires 163 MW solar portfolio stake

22 November 2023 | 16:06 GMT

Italian insurance group Generali's infrastructure fund, Sosteneo Capital Partners, has acquired a 50% stake in a 163 MW solar portfolio in Italy.

The portfolio, located in Mineo on the island of Sicily, consists of two ready-to-build solar plants and was sold by Danish renewables developer European Energy, according to a press release on Wednesday (22 November).

After the acquisition, which follows the sale last month of a 63 MW solar plant in Ramacca between the two firms, Sosteneo and European Energy will construct and operate the Mineo plant on a 50/50 basis.

Sosteneo was advised by SURE (financial), PwC (legal), and Fichtner (technical), while Green Horse (legal) and EOS (technical) advised European Energy.
